RUSSIANS AGAIN ON OFFENSIVE

Strike With Great Force Above and Below Lemberg—Enter Enemy's Lines.

Berlin, Oct. 1, via London, 5:21 p. m.—The Russians have assumed the offensive once more, striking with great force above and below Lemberg. Southeast of the Galician capital they gained a foothold in the Austro-German positions, the war office announced today. An advance north-east of the city was checked after the Russians had charged the German lines seven times.

The announcement was as follows: "The Russians again resumed the offensive at various points."

"West of Lutsk the enemy's fire has increased."

"On both sides of the Brody-Lemberg railway and south of Gruberka, the enemy advance has been arrested by the complete collapse of assaults repeated seven times."

"The southern wing of the attacking Russians forces gained a foothold in our line of defense."

"On both sides of the Zlota Lipa there was violent hand-to-hand fighting. Between the Tsenivka and the Zlota Lipa the enemy advanced. Further west Turkish troops ejected Russians yesterday by an immediate counter-attack and this morning penetrated positions held by Russian detachments. Two hundred and thirty prisoners were brought in."

ZEPPELIN SEEN TO FALL AFLAME

Four Air Raids Over London in the Last Month—Damage Unknown.

London, Oct. 2, 12:45 a. m.—Another Zeppelin raid against London and the east coast of England is in progress. An airship is reported to have been brought down in flames north of London, according to the official statement issued shortly after midnight.

Great crowds cheered the spectacle of the burning Zeppelin as it fell in the London district. The great flare from the burning aircraft was visible for a long distance.

The statement reads: "A number of hostile airships crossed the east coast between 9 o'clock and midnight. A few bombs were dropped near the coast, but no damage is yet reported."

"The raid is still in progress and some airships are in the vicinity of London, where some guns have been in action."

"An airship is reported brought down in flames north of London."

Four Zeppelin raids on London and the east coast have been carried out in the last month, the more recent attacks being made by airships of the newer and bigger type. On September 2 one Zeppelin was struck while flying over the London district and fell in flames.

Two Zeppelins were destroyed in the raid of September 23. On that occasion the raiders killed 38 persons and wounded 125. The following night on another raid in which the airships apparently escaped without damage, they killed 36 persons and wounded 27.

In the raid of September 2 only two persons were killed and thirteen were injured.

FLAGPOLE PLACED AT TOP OF LEWIS PEAK

Early Thursday morning a party set out by automobile to erect a bronzed steel flagpole on the summit of Lewis Peak, going up North Ogden canyon. The party was composed of President Lewis W. Shurtliff, Harry Newman, H. H. Frank and Lewis Shurtliff, Jr., Leander S. Dennison and Martin Harris, Levi J. Taylor, Levi Taylor, Jr., Thomas F. Preshaw and Edgar A. Stevenson.

Upon reaching the top of the divide midway between North Ogden and Liberty all but the three first named proceeded to distribute the tools, sections of pole, cement, etc., to the two horses and among the various members of the party, and wended their way up the mountain side, Indian fashion, in a southwesterly direction to the summit of Lewis Peak, headed by the tireless hiker, Thomas F. Preshaw. President L. W. Shurtliff, as he stood by the automobile watching the party making the ascent, said it reminded him of Indians in pioneer days, especially the sight of Levi J. Taylor on the steepest part of the mountain holding to the tail of his horse.

At times the party spread out a couple of miles along the crest of the gorgeous autumn clad Wasatch range, from which point of vantage one beheld the checker board appearing dry farms of upper Ogden valley. After several hours arduous toil the party reached the summit of Lewis peak, and beheld the beautiful inland sea, dotted by its numerous desert islands. They proceeded to drill a four-inch hole in the rock to a depth of eighteen inches, and while this was going on other members of the party bolted and riveted the five sections of the steel pole together, while still others made a hike down in a canyon to get water to use in mixing the cement. After all was in readiness the pole was hoisted to its position and cement was tamped around its base. Three guy wires were then brought taut, anchoring the pole so firmly in position that future generations may find a majestic height to again unfurl Old Glory as it was unfurled at 3:52, to commemorate the act of the pioneer three of '52.

At the close of the appropriate flag raising ceremony, pictures were taken of the flag and pole, with the members of the party standing at the base, and also of the inscription plate on the pole, as shown in the accompanying cuts. The homeward descent was then begun, two of the party going back with the horses over the trail used in the morning, and the remainder going almost due west down the steep mountain side, at the base of which an automobile containing President L. W. Shurtliff was waiting, he having watched, with keen interest, the entire proceedings of the day.

Descendants of the Taylor family, the Harris family and the Shurtliff family were represented, the latter by four generations, the fathers of the older members having been among the first white men known to have ascended the mountains in that section. Martin H. Harris, Ira N. Tiffany and Lewis W. Shurtliff ascended this peak as boys, and the latter being the youngest, the other two proposed naming it Lewis Peak in his honor.

Credit is due Halverson Brothers and other business firms for having contributed to the success of the erection of the pole.

Anyone desiring photographs taken on the trip may leave their orders with the Ensign Drug company.

The following was written by Leander S. Harris and read at the flag raising ceremonies.

Mount Lewis, Near Ogden, Utah, September 28, 1916.

Twos on the 28th of September Nineteen hundred and sixteen When a band of mountain climbers, The jolliest that had been seen, Ascended the slopes of Mount Lewis

On that beautiful Autumn day, Where the zephyrs waved a greeting

And the crowd was heard to say, "Oh! what a beautiful valley!" On the shores of the Great Salt Lake,

Laid out in checker board fashion Such as the Pioneers did make. There was the beautiful Ogden river,

Like a tiny silver thread, Wending its way through the valley And crossing the streets we tread.

And away out to the westward As far as the eye could see, Could be traced the Southern Pacific

Crossing the inland sea, And our beautiful Wasatch mountains, Clothed in purple, green and gold,

SENATOR CLARKE DIES SUDDENLY

Stricken With Apoplexy on Friday, He Fails to Rally—Prominent Democrat.

Little Rock, Ark., Oct. 1.—United States Senator James P. Clarke, president pro tempore of the United States senate, died at his home here today. Senator Clarke suffered a stroke of apoplexy Friday and never regained consciousness. He was born in Yazoo City, Miss., August 18, 1854. He was educated in the schools of his native state and in 1878 graduated from the law department of the University of Virginia. He began the practice of law in Helena, Ark., in 1879.

Entering politics, Mr. Clarke was advanced rapidly from legislator in 1886 to state senator in 1888, to the presidency of the state senate in 1891 and to attorney-general in 1892. He was elected governor in 1894. In 1903 he was elected United States senator and was re-elected in 1909 and in 1915. He was elected president pro tempore of the senate in 1912 and re-elected in 1915. His present term as United States senator would not have expired until March 4, 1921.

Senator Clarke was married in Helena on November 15, 1883, to Miss Sallie Moore. She and a son and two daughters survive.

Funeral services for the late Senator Clarke will be held Tuesday afternoon from the residence here, followed by interment in a local cemetery.

HAD BEEN PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE OF SENATE

Washington, Oct. 1.—Senator Clarke had been president pro tempore of the senate since the Democratic party gained control in 1913. He was chosen by the party caucus by Senator Frye of Maine.

Senator Clarke left Washington a few weeks ago apparently in good health. In the closing days of the last session he presided over the senate owing to the absence of Vice-President Marshall. The railroad eight-hour bill was passed with Senator Clarke in the chair, but he was one of two Democratic senators to vote against the measure and he refused to sign it. He appointed Senator Hughes as acting president pro tempore when the bill was presented for signature.

Senator Clarke's revolt against the eight-hour bill was a typical manifestation of a stern independence which characterized his attitude throughout the 13 years of his senatorial career. He was many times the leader in opposition to measures proposed by his party. The climax to his independence was reached when he led the Democratic revolt against the ship purchase bill which gave new life to the Republican filibuster against the measure and made its passage impossible. When the bill was reintroduced during the last session, however, with the government ownership and operation features to which Senator Clarke objected revised and modified, he supported it.

Senator Clarke acted for several years as chairman of the committee on commerce. He also was the ranking Democratic member of the foreign relations committee and the committee on military affairs.

PRESIDENT WILL START FOR OMAHA

Long Branch, N. J., Oct. 1.—So many messages congratulating President Wilson on his speech here yesterday were received by him today that he has decided to follow the same general line in future addresses at Shadow Lawn.

Arrangements were completed today for the president's trip to Omaha, beginning Tuesday. He will arrive in Omaha Thursday morning at 11:40 o'clock and will remain there until 10 o'clock that night, returning at 10 o'clock Saturday afternoon. He will address an assemblage of independent farmers.

A busy day has been arranged for him in Omaha. Soon after his arrival he will attend a luncheon at the Commercial club. Then he will ride at the head of a historical pageant and later review it. After dinner, in the evening, he will speak in the Omaha auditorium.

President Wilson received a number of telegrams today bearing on his message to Jeremiah O'Leary, president of the American Truth society, telling him he wanted no "disloyal" Americans to vote for him. Most of the telegrams praised the president for his stand, but a few criticized him.

Statements made by a brother of Mr. O'Leary that suit should be brought against the president for libel were received lightly by administration officials. No comment was made except that President Wilson personally handled the telegram to Mr. O'Leary and stands back of the message.

SMALLEST CANNON MADE FOR POCKET

By Dr. Leonard Keene Hirschberg.

The smallest breach loading cannon in the world is now being made for pocket use. It is not a toy, but takes a .22-caliber rim-fire cartridge and fires a bullet that would inflict a nasty wound at close range.

It is in the form of a pocket knife, no larger than the usual knife, and has two blades of fine steel. But at one end is a hole. Anyone asked to examine the article and say what it is will be most likely to guess that it is some new-fangled pencil sharpener or cigar cutter.

In the end of the knife is a steel block that turns on a swivel, being held by a spring that is released with the thumb nail and reveals a hole straight through the block. The cartridge is inserted at the base of the hole, the block is swung back into place, the trigger on the side is opened, thus cocking the pistol, which is now ready to fire. It is held in the hand and the trigger pressed down with the thumb.
